Mastersprogrammes at Hanken School of Economics

Hanken School of Economics is one of the oldest business schools in the Nordic countries. Hanken is a leading, internationally accredited university in the field of economics and business administration. Hanken offers eight two-year Master's Degree Programmes in Helsinki and Vaasa.

Computational Finance

The programme is aimed at students who wish to take their knowledge in quantitative finance to another level. The programme responds to the new challenges and opportunities that have opened up in computational finance for portfolio management, hedging, international trading and financial decision-making.

Corporate Governance

The aim of the programme is to train students in how to improve existing organisations. The programme teaches you to channel the aspirations of experts for the benefit of the entire organisation.

Intellectual Property Law

The programme is intended for students who want to excel in the area of property law; patents, trademarks and copyrights. The programme allows for students to build a meaningful study programme with regards to their future career goals.

International Management

The programme prepares students for careers in international organisations, business organisations in particular. The focus of the programme is on business organisations with activities in the Nordic/Baltic region and in large emerging markets such as China, India and Russia.

Marketing

The programme provides students with the tools to meet the challenges of an increasingly complex marketplace. The focus is on service marketing, customer relationship management, international marketing and e-business.

Real Estate Investment and Finance

The programme is aimed at students who are looking for a career in real estate investment. It gives students the required knowledge to work both in the field of property markets and financial intermediation.

Strategic Entrepreneurship (Joint Nordic Study Programme)

The programme is intended for students who want to focus on the entrepreneurial creativity and innovativeness of different business settings. Students graduating from this programme are prepared for a career as leaders, managers and change agents in private, public and non-profit organisations.

Economics

Master's Degree studies in Economics is intended for students with a bachelor's degree in Economics, or equivalent, who wish to continue their studies within a demanding high quality programme designed to match the demand for professional economists in business and government.
