CEFR minimum B2

TOEFL minimum 78 iBT

IELTS minimum band 6.0

MSc students are expected to have knowledge in English equivalent to minimum C1 (CEFR) or TOEFL minimum 87 iBT or IELTS (minimum band 6,5). The home university shall verify the language proficiency of selected students prior to nominating the students to Hanken.

Erasmus+ students and students from Switzerland are not required to take an international language test if the home university can certify that the nominated student's English language proficiency meets at least CEFR international standard B2 level.

Students exempted from proving English proficiency:

- Students from English speaking countries and Nordic countries
- Students who are undertaking a bachelor's or a master's degree taught entirely in English
